The following letter will show that there has been some misapprehension in egard to the part the Grand Army n the Republic intend to take in the cere ionies at Cave Hill on the 30th of May the occasion of the decoration of the 'mion soldiers' graves with flowers.

We have long felt conscions that th people with one accord would gladly pay this tribute of respect to the memry of those who perished in defense of the old flag. The common impulse of throughout the country: all would be to unite in a litting dentor stration.

We believed that the organization of the Grand Army of the Republic partook so tunch of a political character tha those who upposed it would not respond under its call, while if left free to act as citizens they would cheerfully and gladly join in the ceremonies,

The letter from Mr. J. H. H. Why cannot some movement be made or a park, of beautiful and attractive proportions, in Louisville? Our citizens rave what few believe an exorbitant stimate of the future of our city. And ocity is just to its own credit which oes not pay proper attention to renderng it attractive. It may be said that the imes are too hard, money too tight, the ity too much involved, at this time, to it go into the speculation of providing a park. But this argument is not valid, if we look to the experience of other cities. an see the importance of giving, or sellng at a very low price, to the city, suffiient for a park, in the speculation of the greatly enhanced value of adjoining ands. But we have no intention of arguing the matter, in this its first resentation. We wish the proposition a be presented for consideration, merey. As time revolves the idea will grow. For the present, the following facts of New York experience are sufficiently suggestive: "Central Park has been in existence leven years. The expenditures on it last year were $200,000, while the inreased valuation of the three wards urrounding the park is $75,000,000, yielding over $2,000,000 ununally in taxes. So the city of New York gets of communication this Theoday eventue. from her great park investment a direct pecuniary profit of 1,000 per cent. What may judge for himself. Among the RIVER AND WEATHER.

The river at this point has again begun to sweel, and was slowly rising yesterday, with 15 feet 5 inches water in the canal last evening at dusk, by the mark, 13 feet 5 inches in the pass on the falls, and over 12 feet over the rocks. The rise at the head of the falls since it began to swell, about eighteen hours, has been 5 inches, or nearly one foot at Portland. The weather yesterday was clear during the greater portion of the day, though at times it would cloud up with indications.

In our report of the slage of water yesterday, an error occurred. It should have rend 15 feet in the canal, instead of 11.

LETTER TROM ANDERSON COUNTY. The Henvy Rains Hog Cholera, &c.

Correspondence of the Louisville Democrat.

1 LANDENVILLE, K.Y., May 17, 1888.

Measurs. Editors—Gends: The all-absorbing topic of interest in this vicinity among the farmers is the large amount of rain. We are not done planting corn. The corn planted betweethis wet weather set in looks well. At least two-thirds of the wheat sown last fall froze out during the wheat. The wheat that survived the freezing process looks promising. A very small quantity of spring wheat has been sown, and it presents a beautiful appearance. Hog cholera has been very fatal among the hogs. When Hon. J. H. Verrell returned home from the Legislature this final medaly
